Thomas Bellavia, M.D. is a Felician University Trustee as well as Founder and Chairman of Osler Health IPA (Independent Practice Association). His vision—refined after more than four decades in private practice—has been to transform healthcare from a model of managing sickness to one of preserving wellness. Dr. Bellavia's support for excellence in Felician education includes the newly created Italian Culture and Language Series which will enrich campus programming by offering Italian cultural events, activities and academic experiences at the soon-to-be-built Wellness and Recreation Center.

Where there is charity and wisdom, there is neither fear nor ignorance.

—St. Francis
